- MAKING SURE YOUR CHILDREN DON'T MISS OUT -

As a parent it's hard for you not to worry about your children's education, as the demand to gain better qualifications is ever growing. Unfortunately the educational system does not always provide enough support for your children's differing needs.

Studies have shown that just 2 hours a week can make a substantial difference in your child's grades, as well as increasing your child's confidence and self esteem. Regular tutoring maybe required for more in depth help, depending on your child's specific concerns or the subject matter that is causing problems.

In the classroom children may not wish to speak up if something is not understood, to avoid any embarrassment in front of the class - pupils are much more likely to be open towards a tutor than they would a school teacher.

So whether your child is studying for an entrance exam for a grammar school or is struggling to get a grasp of maths - tutoring can provide all the answers necessary to achieve your child's goals.

All tutoring lessons are normally conducted in the safety of your own home, so there is no need to drive or go anywhere. If for any reason this is not possible, arrangements can be made for your child to be taught in the safety of your tutor's home, where specific learning areas are set aside, so pupils can feel comfortable and secure.

Children may need a tutor to:

- give your child a chance to learn concepts slowly and solidly
- help grasp foundational concepts on which to build upon
- learn important study techniques that can benefit your child in the future
- help with a particular subject
- gain an understanding of a range of subjects
- prepare for an upcoming exam
- help your child stay on track with constant feedback on how they are doing
- help build confidence in your child's learning abilities, encouraging self motivation

Study Time Tutoring specialises in Primary Years 1 & 2 and Special Educational Needs (SEN). All tutors are experienced primary school teachers and are specifically trained to help children with learning difficulties.

Your tutor is always punctual and reliable, and will arrive well prepared with a specific lesson plan in mind. They will always have a good supply of teaching materials and learning aids should they be needed.

All tutors have a first-rate command of English and Maths, as well as excellent communication skills. Your child will be able to have fun whilst learning those all important subjects.

Tutors are excellent at adapting to a student's particular needs, which is a key factor when establishing a good rapport with your child. Making sure lessons are always lively and interesting will help to relieve any stress your child maybe dealing with.

Furthermore they can assess your child's abilities and pitch lessons at a level that is right for them, by devising an individual program that is specifically designed for your child's unique needs. This can then give realistic expectations without weakening your child's confidence.
